Excellent ferry connection

Next year we are planning to hold the SVW Register Event in East Sussex, at Battle. This is fairly close to the ferry port of Dover in Kent.

This quaint little town is named after the Battle of Hastings, which took place there. William the Conqueror established an Abbey there as a penance for the killing of King Harold of the Anglo Saxons.

Our hotel is located next to the Abbey, in 160 acres of grounds, with lakes and pretty gardens. The hotel is called the Powder Mills Hotel, as it was originally a factory for making gunpowder. For this reason, do not smoke in your bedroom!

The programme of events will be published later, but is likely to include visits to Dover Castle, the Battle Abbey and battle site, Dungeness, the Romney, Hythe and Dymchurch miniature Steam Railway and Beachy Head.

You can stay for two nights, or three or four. The first day is Tuesday 28th July when we will enjoy a hot/cold buffet at the hotel. The second day, after a run in the region, we will have our AGM and Gala Dinner at the hotel. On the Thursday 30th July we will have a car run in the morning and for those who stay that night, another run in the afternoon and probably also on the Friday morning. If you wish, you can arrive on the Monday 27th. It is not possible to stay on Friday, Saturday or Sunday nights as the hotel has weddings arranged.

The cost for the two nights, 28th and 29th July is £320 per couple, to include a full breakfast and evening meals. If you wish to stay on either the 27th and/or 30th, the cost is £160 per couple per night half board, or £100 Bed and Breakfast.

Single rooms are available at £230 for the two nights, including all meals, and £115 half board for extra nights.

A £25 per head deposit is required by the hotel on booking, and this is non-refundable. There will be a further charge per car for rally plaques and entrance fees etc. We do not know exactly how much this will be but it is unlikely to exceed £40.

To book, call the hotel on (44) 1424 775511 or email info@powdermillshotel.com, quoting “SVW Register 2020”.

When you book, please also email us at jwdutton@btinternet.com with details of your car and the people attending.

Do come, it will be a great event!
